ADMISSIONS PROGRAMS FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Early Action Students applying as first-year degree-seeking students who wish to learn of their admission decision by late December may apply by November 1 under the Early Action program. Applicants admitted under Early Action have until May 1 to pay an acceptance fee and do not have to make a binding commitment to attend the university.

Some Early Action candidates will be deferred until the admissions office has reviewed all first-year applicants for fall admission. Deferred applications are automatically reviewed again and decisions are generally released by early March. Early Action candidates may also be denied admission and do not have the option of reapplying for entry as regular decision candidates. Early Action applicants may also be offered the wait list or spring semester (Spring Start) admission after the review is complete in March.

Regular Decision Students may apply as first-year degree-seeking students by January 15 for consideration for fall semester entrance. Students who complete their application for admission will be notified of an admissions decision by early March. Regular decision applicants may be denied admission, offered spring semester (Spring Start) admission, or offered a place on the waiting list.

Spring Admission for Early Action or Regular Decision applicants (Spring Start) Selected students who apply for fall admission may be offered admission beginning in spring semester. Admission offers for spring admission are subject to college or school space availability. Students offered spring admission will be asked to confirm their intention to enroll by May 1. Spring Start students may enroll in college coursework in the fall, but may not enroll as a matriculated student elsewhere. Students who applied for fall and were offered Spring Start may not defer their admission to a future semester; they will need to reapply.

New England Regional Tuition Break Program The University of Vermont participates with the other public two-and four-year institutions of higher education in the six New England states in the New England Board of Higher Education’s (NEBHE) Tuition Break Program, an option aimed at increasing educational opportunities for the region’s students. All approved programs can be accessed from the New England Board of Higher Education (http://www.nebhe.org) website.

New England resident students enrolling in an approved program are charged 175% of in-state tuition.

UVM bachelor’s degree programs offered for the 2017-18 academic year are:

- Chinese to residents of ME and NH
- Data Science to residents of CT, ME, RI
- Food Systems to residents of CT, ME, RI
- Forestry to residents of CT, MA, RI
- German to residents of ME
- Greek to residents of CT, ME, RI
- Japanese to residents of CT, ME, NH, RI
- Latin to residents of CT, ME, RI
- Linguistics to residents of RI
- Neuroscience to residents of ME and RI
- Plant Biology to residents of MA, NH
- Russian to residents of CT, MA, ME, RI

For a full listing of programs and policies, visit the New England Board of Higher Education (http://nebhe.org) website.