

CLASSICS CO-MAJOR

All students must meet the University Co-Major Requirements.

The co-major offers students outside of the College of Arts and Sciences the opportunity to complete advanced coursework in Classics, including language study in Ancient Greek and Latin. (Students who are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences can complete the same coursework through the Classics B.A.) Students apply to the co-major through an application available from the School of World Languages and Cultures (swlc@uvm.edu). Once the application is submitted, students must meet with an advisor in their home college or school to ensure that the co-major can be completed along with degree requirements. Accepted students must also meet with an advisor in the co-major to outline their course of study in the language.

Classics co-majors may choose from 2 concentrations:

Concentration in Classical Studies

Concentration in Classical Languages

RESTRICTIONS

Students completing the co-major in Classics with a concentration in Classical Studies may not also receive the minor in Classics with a track in Classical Studies.

Students completing the co-major in Classics with a concentration in Classical Languages may not also receive the minor in Classics with a track in Classical Languages.

OTHER INFORMATION

Only one course may overlap between the co-major and a minor or between the co-major and student's major in the home unit.

Courses for the co-major and/or its pre/co-requisites that are cross-listed in the catalog or schedule of courses under another course prefix may be taken under that other prefix and still count for these requirements.

With the approval of the chair/director, courses that applied to the co-major in previous years but have since been deactivated may be applied to this year's co-major requirements if they are reactivated.

At least half of the credits used to complete co-major requirements must be taken at the University of Vermont.
