Courses

EDES 1124. Unplug & Question Tech in Ed. 3 Credits.

Explores Albert Borgmann's concepts of focal things and practices and the device paradigm, set alongside other voices in the philosophy of technology and cultural criticism. Examines how technologies, from smartphones to electrical grids, influence family life, community, education, and childhood. Students will experiment with focal practices in their own lives and reflect on whether such practices can restore meaning, depth, and connection in a device-driven culture. Catamount Core: AH3.
